Yokogawa Announces Dates for Annual Technology Fair & Users Conference

Online registration is now open for the 2009 Yokogawa Corporation of America Technology Fair & Users Conference to be held May 17-21, 2009, at the Intercontinental Hotel in Houston, TX.

“The Tech Fair & Users Conference is a tremendous vehicle for users and Yokogawa to gain in-depth, quantified insight into how peers are using advanced technologies to deliver industry-leading results,” said David Johnson, President and CEO of Yokogawa Corporation of America. “Led by users for users, the 2009 conference will provide valuable exchange of information among process manufacturers, and end-users. This year’s user-driven event will feature a comprehensive collections of user-driven presentations and workshops on technology selection and application, and automation strategy.”

The conference is designed for current and future users of Yokogawa products and solutions in a number of industries including Chemical, Pharmaceutical, Power, Refinery, Petrochemical, and Upstream Oil & Gas. It will offer attendees the chance to participate in Continuing Education Unit (CEU) courses and product technical seminars, share problem-solving approached to practical applications, and see how Yokogawa automation solutions delivery measurable results.

For more information regarding this event, please email us at www.usersconference@us.yokogawa.com, or visit www.yokogawa.com/us in the coming weeks.

About Yokogawa Technology Fair & Users Conference

In addition to the annual conference, the Yokogawa Technology Fair & Users Conference coordinates and produces activities such as special interest group forums, newsletters and communications related to Yokogawa products and solutions. Members of the Users Group actively participate in product development and application discussions with Emerson's engineering and management staff, providing feedback at conferences and other meetings. Users Group participant comments, conference agendas, registration and other details are available at www.yokogawa.com/us/userconnection
